Artsyl Technologies releases Questys Enterprise Content Management System connector for docAlpha IDR data capture solution.

Tight integration of Artsyl's docAlpha Advanced Capture Platform Further Expands Capabilities of Questys, delivering auto-classification and filing of documents and data for public and private sector organizations

ONTARIO, CANADA (March 2, 2016) — Artsyl Technologies, Inc.™, a leading global provider of data capture and document processing automation technologies today announced the official release of its Questys Enterprise Content Management (ECM) integration. The tight integration of Artsyl's docAlpha Advanced Capture Platform with the Questys Enterprise Content Management (ECM) Platform provides a powerful intelligent capture solution to streamline and automate many of their paper-based processes by intelligently auto-classifying and indexing scanned files into their on-premises or cloud Questys repositories with metadata.

Artsyl's docAlpha enables Questys customers to reduce manual data entry costs, increase data accuracy and improve document processing speed. Questys will market the Artsyl docAlpha integration as its Advanced Capture solution to existing clients and prospects.

"Adding the Questys connector to our portfolio of ECM and ERP integrations presents an exciting opportunity for Artsyl and for the Questys community of resellers to dramatically increase the return on investment for clients investing in ECM," says Jeff Moore CSO/Partner at Artsyl technologies, Inc.

"The Questys integration with Artsyl's docAlpha to deliver an Advanced Capture solution presents a significant productivity and cost savings opportunity for our clients," said Mike Myers, CEO at Questys Solutions. "With Advanced Capture, enterprises can more effectively organize, manage, secure and process their information, which leads to better decisions, faster results, improved collaboration and the highest levels of security and compliance."
